

Digestible Insights: Lunchtime Webinars

Monday, 22nd April 2024

12.00-13.00

COMPETENCE NETWORK
HEALTH WORKFORCE

Presenteeism at Work

Occupational

Health Management and Presenteeism among employees

Presenteeism means working even though you should be resting for health reasons. Research on this has increased significantly in recent years. In a quasi-experimental project, we recorded presenteeism as a behavior, influencing factors and consequences and developed and evaluated an e-learning course as an intervention. Initial results are presented for the healthcare sector and in comparison with other sectors. The topic of presenteeism is discussed as a relevant factor that needs to be considered for a sustainable health culture in a company.

Dr. Christoph Golz, Head of Innovation Field Healthcare – Personnel Development, Applied Research & Development in Nursing, Department of Health Professions, Bern University of Applied Sciences

Link Webinar

